mitting their agents to grant the right to a railroad to construct a road, not only through the heart of the city, but on the very front of the city, where the heaviest trade is concentrated—immediately on the river front—interposing a dangerous barrier between the river, steamboat trade, and the commerce of the city. Yes, a dangerous barrier; a fiery, paripatetic volcano, with its long train of cars, constantly or frequently passing the streets leading to and from the river, causing long lines of drays to wait the passing of the locomotive, endangering life and limb, throwing out of employment hundreds of laborers and draymen; making the passengers to and from the steamboats run the gauntlet of the locomotive and train. Who can, without anxiety, see his wife and children cross in a carriage going from or to the river over this railroad? It is not the seidem crossing of delivering their opinions will be saluted with the labored breathing of the iron borse. In what other city would a railroad company be what other city would a railroad company he permitted to outrage popular rights by building in a similar location in such city? Would it be attempted in Cincinnatior in Louisville, or in any city where a manly people, not cowed by accumulated calamities, exists? It is not too late for the people to act, to preserve their city from the disfigurement contemplated; let them assemble in wise council, and in co-operation with the urement contemplated; let them assemble in wise council, and in co-operation with the vast steamboat and river interest protest against a steam railroad in front or any other part of the city. The streets from the remith to the nadir belong to the people and should not be occupied by any steam fram. Nor should they be darkened or defaced by throwing bridges over them. Let all legal steps necessary be taken to save us from this vandalism. But it is urged that the city's interest will be promoted by this railroad; that the expense of hauling cotton will be diminished. This is not certain, and if even so, it would be to an inappreciable extent—diminished. This is not certain, and if even so, it would be to an inappreciable extent—not enough to compensate for the loss of population caused by the non-employment of multitudes of laborers and draymen by the steam railroad monopolizing the transportation business—and to whom does the net earnings of the corporation go? Where is the earnings expended? In Memphis? No, the stock is not owned in Memphis. Whatever the net earnings may be are remitted to ever the net carnings may be are remitted to a distant State, while the laboring classes who now do the hauling spend their earn-ings here. That any considerable number of our people should aid or countenance this our people should aid or countenance this thing can only be accounted for on the theory that they did not deliberate on it before committing themselves to its advocacy, or that some "mammoth" (everything now must be on a "mammoth" scales even to the mammoth baby-show in Ohio) combination for storing and pressing cotton has made them oblivious of public right and the true interest of the city in giving employment to the greatest of public right and the true interest of the city in giving employment to the greatest number. Now, there is no excuse for this innovation, as the streets are being made solidly beautiful, and will equal those of Brussels or Paris in every respect. Will the stockbolders and bondholders in New York be consulted, or will the comfort, safety, commerce and fair countenance of our riverfront be held inviolable from the rapacity of the few?

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. Rev. Sylvanus Cobb thus writes in the Boston Christian Freeman: "We would by no means recommend any kind of medicine which we did not know to be good—particularly for infants. But of Mrs. Winslow's agothing syrup we can speak from knowledge. In our own family it has proved a blessing indeed, by giving an infant troubled with colic pains, quiet sleep, and the parents un-broken rest at night. Most parents can appreciate these blessings. Here is an article which works to perfection, and which is narmless, for the sleep which it affords the nfantant is perfectly natural, and the little cherub awakes as 'bright as a button.' And during the process of teething, its value is incalculable. We have frequently Leard mothers say that they would not be without it from the birth of the child till it had finished with the teething issues. ished with the teething siege, on any consideration whatever." Yesterday afternoon a couple of white hack-drivers engaged in a row at Luchrman's sa-toon on Monroe street, and Officer Jenny, one of the best officers on the force, entered the bouse to make an arrest. He was at once assanited and beaten by the rowdy mob of hackmen. He called upon several citizens present to assist him, but they failed to re-spond, so he was left at the mercy of the drunken crew, who held him and beat him drunken crew, who held him and beat him while he was attempting to perform his duty as an officer. Those who participated in the deadly assault were Jack Eagan, Burney Farrell and Dan Donohue, hackmen. They were arrested and had charges of assault and battery and resisting an officer entered against them, and were locked up until morning. The assault upon Officer Jenny was an unprovoked outrage, perpetrated by drunken, scalping hackmen, who have long been a nuisance in Memphis. It is time that such persons felt the heavy hand of the law. The legislative council should enact an ordinance depriving scalping back-thieves and towdies of the privilege of driving hacks in the city of Memphis.

Last night the Bluff City Grays gave a plume drill and hop at their armory, corner Second and Union streets. It was largely attended by members of the company and their gentiemen and lady friends. The plume drill was engaged in by Sergennis W. B. Armour, R. Armour, Corporal Looney, and Privates Hayden, Clark, Wildberger, Beauseau, Nelson, Stone, Leahy and M'Reynolds. During the drill in the manual of half an hour, the contest was reduced to the following members of the company: Sergeant W. B. Armour and Privates Looney and Clark. In a few minutes Private Looney dropped out, and ere long Private R. Arthur Clark was declared the victor by the judges—Surgeon Willie Rogers and Lieutenant Pettit, of the Bluff City Grays, and Captain Waldron, of the Memphis Light Guards. He was presented with the red plume amid the applause of the spectators. The gentlemen in attendance it is needless to mention, but the ladies were as follows, and if our reporter has failed to not follows, and if our reporter has failed to no-tice the presence of acy, he offers an apology that his failure was not intentional or pre-meditated: mitting their agents to grant the right to a railroad to construct a road, not only through the heart of the city, under the heaviest trade is concentrated—immediately on the river front —interposing a dangerous barrier between the river, steamboat trade, and the commerce of the city. Who cas, without a carriage going from or to the river over this railroad? It is not the seldom crossing of a railroad in the country, but at all hours, particularly in the business season, the very time of the greatest activity of this road, that the most traffic and travel will be between the city and the river and steamboats. How long will it take to familiarize the hundreds of horses and mules to the presence of the locomotive? And too, soon, or after a while, the customhouse and postoffice, with the two United States courts, will be completed and open to the busy throng having business in that building, and the witnesses giving testimosy in the United States courts, the attorneys addressing the juries, and the judges delivering their opinions will be saluted with the laborate addressing the juries, and the judges delivering their opinions will be saluted with

For the Democratic National Nominees-Rousing Ratification Meeting.

EDITORS APPEAL—On the night of the twenty-eighth instant, although the weather was inclement and threatening, the Democrats of Sardis and vicinity, smid the roar of anvils, the flash of rockets and Roman candles, and strains of thrilling music from the cornet band, met in the courthouse to ratify the nomination of Hancock and Euglish. At nine o'clock Mr. J. B. Boothe called the house to order. Upon motion, Captain E. S. house to order. Upon motion, Captain E. S. Walton and R. A. Bonner were chosen, respectively, chairman and secretary of the meeting. In response to loud and frequent calls, Hon. R. H. Taylor, one of Mississippi's calls, Hon. R. H. Taylor, one of Mississippi's delegates to the Cincinnati convention, appeared and addressed the meeting in an excellent and impressive speech of thirty-five minutes. Captain Taylor gave an interesting account of his stewardship, and of the stirring scenes that transpired in the great convention. All was confidence, enthusiasm, harmony and brotherly love. Every delegate there seemed actuated by the patriotic desire to nominate a ticket that would command the respect and support of the whole country. Captain Taylor favorably contrasted the lofty character and stainless record of Hancock with the blackened and besmirched name of Garfield.

and stainless record of hancock with the blackened and besmirched name of Garfield, the notorious corruptionist. The speaker promised a solid south for Hancock and English, and confidently predicted their overwhelming election and triumphant inauguration. Contain Taylor effort are so well retion. Captain Taylor's effort was so well re-ceived that he was several times cheered into fect silence. A notable feature of the meeting was the presence of quite a number of colored men, who displayed much interest in the proceedings. This, the first meeting of the campaign, is a propitious one for the Democracy. The ticket gives complete satisfaction. The town is ablaze with enthusiasm, and all the Democrats are happy and harmonious in the firm belief that a grand victory awaits them in November. And now with summer heats and summer winds come the memories of years past when a fever-stricken community in New Orleans looked to that old landmark of man's faith in the charity of man, the world-famous Charity hospital. But, also, the generous contributions of a public are not always forthcoming, and for a steady revenue this firm dying has to look to the revenue it draws, by the intervention of wise legislation (prim but stingy moralis's to the contrary notwithtanding), from the Louisiana State lotters ompany-under a grant of twenty five years recognized in the revised constitution of the State. A PROMINENT DRUGGIST.

Bearserown, I.L., Sept. 9th, 1878.

My Dear Sir :— For the past two years I have been selling Clifford's Febrifing, and for Chills and Fever have found nothing to equal it, or give such universal satisfaction. I can heartly recommend it to all afflicted with Chills and Fever.

C. M. SPEING.

Druggist and Bookseller

FEBRIFUGE

RESCUED FROM DEATH. My dear Mr. Hicharison:—My hearty thanks are due you and your Medicine, Clifford's Febrifuge.
My wife and two children had Ague for nearly a year. Quinine would not cure them and as a last resort I tried your Febrifuge and honestly think their taking it rescued them from death.

Truly, &c., OLIVER SMITH, Springfield, Mo.

FEBRIFUGE

ROCKDAIN, THES. Feb'y 8th, 1879.

I hereby take pleasure in certifying to the emidency of Clifford's Febrifage which I have used in my family, and find it every thing claimed for it by the proprietor, and superior to any I have ever used.

DAVID S. HARRIES.
